LATEST NEWS OF THE NORTH STATE CAPITOL

Municipal Building will be Completed by Autumn—Corporation Commission Wrestles with Rates—Seaboard Helps to Establish Experiment Farms.

Raleigh, March 28.—Another week of fair weather will see the roof of the $100,000 municipal and auditorium building completed and then the work of interior finish will go forward without regard to weather conditions. The building will be completed probably by the early fall and then the city officials will have splendid quarters and the city and the State at large a splendid and thoroughly commodious auditorium for the largest conventions it is possible to get together in this State.

In connection with the recent order of the corporation commission for the discontinuance of a special low internal improvement freight rate on brick from Goldsboro to Durham it is an interesting phase of the case that the commission proposes to take under consideration the whole scope of rates on brick for intra-North Carolina shipments and probably make an order for general reductions within the next month or so. Those favoring such a move point out that the Goldsboro-Durham rate which was considerably lower than the general rate in force was proving entirely satisfactory to the railway people. This rate was put on a way back yonder when the big Erwin cotton mills were being erected.

The corporation commission is wrestling with a contest from Chadbourn, Columbus county, over a change of location for the freight depot. The petitioning citizens are insisting that the present depot is inconveniently and inaccessibly located and that instead of the Atlantic Coast Line making any improvement on the old depot the location should be changed and an adequate depot erected. The railroad company is insisting that the present location serves every purpose and that a change would be an unnecessary burden on the company. Corporation Commissioner H. C. RANDLEMAN MILLS SOLD YESTERDAY AT PUBLIC AUCTION

Yesterday at noon at Randleman the properties of the Randleman Manufacturing Company, bankrupt, and the Naomi Falls Manufacturing Company, bankrupt, were sold by order of the bankruptcy court to the highest bidder, the sale to be subject to the confirmation of the court. F. H. Fries, of Winston-Salem, was trustee for the former and T. A. Hunter, of Greensboro, was trustee for the latter. Both properties were purchased by Capt. J. E. Gilmer, of Winston-Salem, the price paid aggregating $215,500.

The Randleman Manufacturing Company was bonded for $115,000 and the purchase price was $59,500 above bonds, making a total of $174,500. The bidders were H. E. Fries and Capt. Gilmer, both of Winston-Salem. This plant has 11,000 spindles and 500 looms. The Naomi Manufacturing Company was bought for $41,000, including a small bonded indebtedness hanging over the plant. This plant has in operation 6,000 spindles and over 60 looms. The bidders were Capt. Gilmer and Laurence Holt, of Burlington.

Both plants have been in operation under the direction of the trustees since being placed in bankruptcy court and the new owner, Capt. Gilmer will continue operations, taking over the properties as soon as the sale is confirmed by the court.

Among those who attended the sale from Greensboro were T. A. Hunter, J. W. Fry, A. B. Kimball and J. C. Watson.

MOSS IS BACK IN THE COUNTY JAIL

Brought Here From Asheville Last Night—Decision in Case Expected Today.

United States Marshal W. E. Logan arrived last night on Train No. 12 from Asheville, having in custody W. V. Moss, who was yesterday ordered brought back to the Guilford county jail. Judge Pritchard has not yet rendered his decision in the Moss habeas corpus hearing. Marshal Logan stated last night that Judge Pritchard intimated to him before leaving that the decision would be handed down some time today.

Moss came back willingly enough and no one would have guessed that he was a prisoner. He is still confident that he will be released when Judge Pritchard finally decides as to the weight of the testimony offered by the government against him, believing that the evidence will not show that he intended to defraud anyone. Marshal Logan was met at the train by Deputy Marshals Blaylock and Vincent.

It was expected that the matter would be decided yesterday, but on account of other business before Judge Pritchard he could not make a thorough investigation into the merits of the case.

MAJOR STEDMAN LOOKS FOR TARIFF REDUCTION

Ready to Depart for Washington, Congressman Gives Views on Tariff Reform and Reciprocity Prospects.

Major Charles M. Stedman, Congressman from the Imperial Fifth district, will leave on Thursday for Washington to be present at the extra session of Congress which convenes on the 4th of April. There will be a caucus on Saturday, the first of April, and Major Stedman goes thus early to be present at the caucus. His private secretary, J. Elmer Long, of Graham, will accompany Major Stedman.

When asked about the Canadian reciprocity treaty the congressman said that it would undoubtedly pass the House of Representatives and he thought that some of the leading infamies of the tariff would also be taken up schedule by schedule and revised by the House. That if the Senate refused relief to the people by a downward revision of the tariff, the Democratic party would go before the country upon an issue thus clearly made and could not fail to win by an overwhelming majority. That if the Senate passes the bills which come from the House revising the tariff downward, and the President should veto such action, the Democratic party would win a victory more overwhelming than was achieved at the last election.

"The people of this country," said Major Stedman, "have at last awakened to the great wrongs which have been inflicted upon them and burdens imposed, not for the benefit of the government, but of private individuals. The safety of the Republic depends upon the education and morality of the people, and it was due to the intelligent understanding of the tariff question by them which overthrew the Republican party last November."

Major Stedman stated that he had no idea as to how long the special Congress would be in session, that it altogether depended on the progress made in revising the tariff. He is in favor of taking the schedules that are most oppressive and revising them downward and then if there is time to take the more important schedules and revise them downward also.

After the installation ceremonies the chapter repaid in a body to the Elks Club where a banquet was held. After the invocation by Rev. Melton Clark fraternal greetings were exchanged by Judge J. E. Boyd in behalf of the Elks and Rev. W. C. Wicker in behalf of the Masons. J. B. Rector also made an address. The following menu was served in delightful style, the entire occasion being one of rare enjoyment:

SECOND DAY OF ELKS INDOOR FAIR

Event Proving Great Success Both Socially and Financially—Attendance Exceeded that of Monday—Full Change of Program Today—Many Visitors Here.

The attendance of second day of the Elks Indoor Fair greatly exceeded the expectations of the more sanguine of the promoters of this amusement week, the rooms being crowded throughout the afternoon and evening and the day proved a financial as well as a social success. Last evening was known as Masonic night and in addition to the Royal Arch banquet, an account of which is given elsewhere, a large number of Masons called and mingled with the members of the antlered tribe and their fair assistants during the evening.

Today the program will be changed and in anticipation of a still larger attendance the following ladies have been added to the general committee to assist in receiving and giving the patrons a good time in every respect: Mesdames J. N. Leak, R. C. Hood, Leslie Abbott, J. W. Cook, R. H. Crawford, J. B. Ellington, J. J. Stone, G. H. Miles, Miss Meta Beall.

A large number of business men took advantage of the opportunity and took dinner and supper with the Elks yesterday. The menu for today's dinner will be roast pork, rye hominy, apple sauce, canned sweet potatoes, pickles, bread, butter and coffee. For supper creamed chicken, ham, French fried potatoes, salad, hot rolls and coffee will be served. The price for each meal will be 35 cents. Club sandwiches and coffee will be served for 25 cents and chicken salad for 15 cents.

The country store did a land office business yesterday and last night and the ladies in charge announced that double trading stamps will be given with each purchase today. The fortune teller and other booth operators were well patronized also. The musicals last night, which preceded the dancing, was well attended and the program included solos (Continued on Page Five.)

Negro who got Bicycle got Eight Months

Charlie Ellis, the negro who obtained a wheel under false pretense, from Hege's shop Monday morning, was given a hearing before Judge Eure in Municipal court yesterday morning on the charge of larceny. He was found guilty and sentenced to serve eight months on the county roads.

David McCulloch, an aged white man who has been before the court fully a score of times since its establishment on the charge of drunkenness, was arraigned on the familiar charge. Judge Eure had on the occasion previous stated to David that if he appeared before him again he would send him to the workhouse in both cases and accordingly he was given a total of 60 days, thirty in each case.

Paul Neil was charged with forcible trespass, being let off on payment of the costs and promise of good behavior.

ANOTHER BICYCLE THIEF.

Chief of Police Neelley returned last night from Burlington, having in custody Ernest Phibbs, a negro man, who was wanted here on the charge of stealing a bicycle from A. F. Moore some days ago. The negro will be given a hearing before Judge Eure this morning. After stealing the wheel Phibbs rode a portion of the way and sold the wheel to P. W. Waugh, who suspected something

Mrs. U. G. Thompson Falls From Second Story Window

Mrs. Ulysses G. Thompson, 730 Tuscaloosa street, either accidentally fell or intentionally jumped from a second story window of her home yesterday morning and sustained a fractured hip by the fall. Mrs. Thompson has been in bad health for some time and for the past few days has been quite nervous, being kept in bed the larger portion of the time.

Mr. Thompson, who is assistant to Mail Transfer Clerk Tomlinson, arrived at home about 9 o'clock and while attending to some household duties on the first floor heard Mrs. Thompson scream and rushing upstairs was horrified to find that she had fallen to the ground, a distance of about 15 feet. She was carried inside and a physician summoned at once. Whether she went to the window to raise the sash and became unbalanced or jumped with the intention of ending her suffering is not known.

Mrs. Thompson was doing fairly well yesterday afternoon and her physician does not think that the injuries will prove fatal. She has many friends throughout the city and county.

BUILDING PERMIT.

A permit was issued yesterday to John T. Hunt for the erection of a nine room house, the estimated cost being

There was a joint meeting of the executive committee of the Guilford County Sunday School Association and the special financial committee composed of A. E. Tate of High Point; G. H. Hiles, R. G. Vaughn, and W. M. Combs of Greensboro, and W. T. Whitsett of Whitsett, yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the McAdoo hotel, presided over by the county president, A. Wayland Cooke.

The object of this meeting was to plan an aggressive Sunday school campaign for the betterment of the Sunday school work in Guilford county through the inauguration of special lines of department work as outlined by the International Sunday School Association, and is in operation in the best Sunday schools throughout the country.

At the county convention held in this city last week the opinion was that Guilford county should undertake aggressive Sunday school work as has been done in other counties in states north and south—whose success has been largely due to the fact that these states have only trained teachers in the Sunday school work. Prof. J. A. Matheson, of the State Normal, was present and stated he was elected to the superintendence of the teacher training work in Guilford county for the Sunday schools he was desirous of carrying his department to the standard of efficiency existing in other sections and would do so if the association would place itself in a position to co-operate with him in bringing certain matters to pass.

Not only was Teacher Training, but all the other departments of work were discussed and plans will be begun to carry into the individual Sunday schools the most progressive methods, plans and equipment for Sunday school work along all lines.

Resolutions were adopted, providing that 5 cents per capita be levied on association members for the general fund, and to provide a representative of the association with a small salary and expenses to organize township associations of Sunday school workers, and to promote regular holdings of township conventions.

Not all the business was of a local nature though. The state convention to be held in High Point April 26, 27 and 28 was also discussed, and the executive committee joined heartily into the plan of the state association to have a Guilford County Sunday School day on Thursday, the 27th, and have present a delegation from every Sunday school in the county. A special chartered train to be termed the "Greensboro Sunday School Special" will carry at least 500 people from Greensboro on that day and on arrival in High Point the train will be met by the delegates already in attendance and the Sunday schools of High Point and the first Sunday school parade of the North Carolina association will be formed, to march to the convention hall where the visitors and delegates will have the pleasure of hearing Marion Lawrence, the general secretary of the International Sunday School Association and the greatest Sunday school man in the world, address the gathering on some live Sunday school topic. A committee of three from High Point and three from Greensboro was appointed to attend to the matter of the special train and all were of the opinion that Guilford county would do herself proud on the occasion.

State Secretary J. Van Carter was unable to be present but the state association was represented in his absence by Rev. J. W. Long. The most gratifying feature of the whole session was the fact that men—busy business men of Greensboro and the surrounding country—and women too—left their business and came to the meeting at an hour when time is money, to lay plans for the inauguration of a movement which Reidsville is the home of a great many natural born politicians," says the Review. Unfortunately for most other towns, Reidsville has no monopoly of this state of affairs.

POLITICS CAUSE OF NEW YORK CATASTROPHE.

Municipal politics is said to be responsible for the death and injury of more than one hundred and fifty persons in the Washington Place factory building, a catastrophe so great that it has been given first place in the news during the past few days. The building was not properly equipped with fire escapes—in fact, had practically no equipment for purposes of egress from the building in case of fire—and this state of affairs is alleged to be due to political trading and graft, which prevented some time ago the adoption of building ordinances which would, if enforced, have made it necessary for the owners of this and other tall buildings to have them properly furnished with fire escapes. The defeat of a new building code for the city by methods which have become so well known in municipal politics, is responsible for the death of several score of people. The story as it comes from New York in the dispatches is as follows:

"Politics and political influence brought to bear by contractors, builders and dealers in fireproof building supplies are blamed for the conditions which made possible the trapping of the hundreds of employees in the burning factory building in Washington Place.

"The fact that the building was not equipped with sufficient fire escapes is due directly to the inadequacy of the present building code, and this is due directly to the influence which was brought to bear two years ago to defeat the adoption of a new code."

"When repeated complaints were made to the Board of Aldermen after the adoption of the present code in 1906, the matter was finally taken up and a new code drafted. Scores of the best architects and builders and other experts in the country were brought into consultation to frame a code which would provide protection for persons working in the tall factory buildings.

"It was then that the fight developed between the interests controlling fireproof materials. Certain politicians sought to incorporate a clause practically creating a monopoly for their article. Interests representing another fireproof material fought the measure and demanded monopoly for their product. The Board of Aldermen was divided but after a long fight passed the code giving the first group of politicians the monopoly. Mayor McClellan returned from his vacation to veto the ordinance. Mr. McClellan demanded that the code be revised, but the Aldermen were unable to agree. The new code was at last abandoned and nothing has been done since to bring the code to date."

"If that code had been adopted it is regarded as almost certain that outside fire escapes would have been required on the Washington Place building. At least two fire escapes would have been required on all buildings of more than 36 feet in height."

Discussing this fire the Baltimore Sun says:

"After each great disaster in which there is an unnecessary sacrifice of human life people point to the lesson which it teaches and then go their way and forget all about it until the next one happens. But the New York fire of Saturday evening was so heartrending and ghastly in its horror and the loss of nearly 200 young lives was due to such palpable public and private negligence that it is to be hoped that this lesson will not be so soon forgotten."

"The cause of this holocaust was simply misgovernment. Mr. Croker, the chief of the New York Fire Department, says he predicted just this calamity. It was because there were not proper laws for the protection of human life in these 'beehive' buildings, and such as there were were not properly enforced. Here were 2,000 young girls on the upper floors of a ten-story building with but a single fire-escape, and that leading down into a court or airshaft. It was, in fact, a deathtrap, for around it were found fifty dead bodies. It was one of the so-called fireproof buildings, which have been proved time and again not to be fireproof, and it was filled with inflammable matter. When the fire got into this it took only a few minutes to do its work. The girls, who were penned in by the flames, had no other refuge than the windows, where they encountered a quicker death by leaping to the pavements below.

"Not only should all such factories as this, where numbers of operatives are employed in upper stories, be required by law to have abundant fire-escapes on the front of the buildings and elsewhere, but the law should require employees to be drilled frequently and taught to use them."

"This terrible affair directs attention to the absolute necessity of a watchful, honest and efficient city government—one that will look after the safety of children and working people, one that will enact laws for the preservation of life and enforce them without fear or favor. The remedy for these dreadful occurrences is in the hands of the people. If such tragedies are to be prevented, the people must elect men to public office who can be trusted to do their duty—men who think more of human life and public morals and righteousness than they think of politics or spoils."

WILL SHOW CATAWBA FARMERS THE ROADS OF GUILFORD.

The Catawba County News, published at Newton, has inaugurated a voting contest in which the winners will be treated to a visit to Guilford county for the purpose of being allowed to see the highways of this county and learn something about the steps taken for construction. The News will bring 24 farmers of Catawba to Guilford. In urging the people of that county to interest in the contest the News says:

"Everybody in Catawba, we believe, wants good roads; most of us will admit the county will have good roads sometime; and all of us know that before we make any extensive expenditure on roads, we should have a good, thorough, working knowledge of the subject. It is a fact that the best way to get knowledge is through experience—not ours, for experience is costly; but through another county's experience.

"So why not look at the problem in the light of Guilford county's experience? It will cost nothing, and it will be worth thousands."

"That is the main thing about The News contest to send 24 representative farmers to that county. It is the finest place in the State to look deeply into the heart of the good roads problem. They have the finest roads in the State in Guilford, they profited by the experience of others, and they have built the best. They know how. We can learn from them. What we learn will be published so that all may know the facts."

The Catawba News gives great praise to the roads of this county by saying they are the best in North Carolina; but this opinion has been heard frequently in many other quarters, and it is no doubt a conservative and a true statement. The roads of Guilford are things of beauty and they are a source of constant and increasing satisfaction to our citizens. As a money investment they are worth many times their cost. Guilford is pleased with the roads already constructed, and the proof of it is that more will be built. Good roads sentiment is growing in this county and soon there will be hardly a citizen of the county to oppose any reasonable expenditure for improving the highways.

The citizens of Catawba county will make no mistake in coming to look at the roads of Guilford. They will undoubtedly see the finest roads in this State, and the knowledge which may be gained by a careful investigation of road building here will probably be worth much to Catawba county.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY MUST BE PROGRESSIVE AND DEMOCRATIC

By HON. E. J. JUSTICE, Ex-Speaker of the House.

A CLARION CALL TO PROGRESSIVE DEMOCRATS.

Shortly after the adjournment of the Legislature some newspapers were full of fairy tales to the effect that certain progressive men in the Democratic party were organizing to hold a convention and organize a Progressive Democratic party. There never was any foundation for such publication, for nobody had thought of organizing any new party—much less the progressive men in the party who stand for the legislation to which the Democratic party is committed.

Shortly after the publication alluded to in the News and Observer addressed a letter to ex-Speaker E. J. Justice calling his attention to the publications and asked him to write an article replying to these and to outline the present duty of Progressive Democrats in the State and the Republic. Mr. Justice was named in one of two papers as a leader of the Progressives who was going to organize a new party. In response to that request Mr. Justice writes a vigorous, bold and manly letter taking ground against Standpatriotism, for carrying out platform declarations, and outlining the duty of Democrats who make promises to stand on and not merely to get in on. Mr. Justice's article, printed in today's paper, rings clear as a bell and is the most cheering and heartening message to Democrats that has been sounded in many days.

Mr. Justice points the way for men who want the Democratic party to be Democratic.—Raleigh News and Observer.

THE LETTER OF MR JUSTICE.

To the Editor—Your letter of the 11th, and your editorial in the News and Observer of the 12th, called my attention, for the first time, to the statement published in the Catawba County News, connecting my name with the organization of a progressive Democratic party, in which Democrats and progressive Republicans, having the same convictions can unite.

I note the statement in your letter that this paragraph from the Catawba County News has been copied in other papers in the State, and your request for a statement from me for publication.

I confess I would like to see the Democratic party more progressive than it has been, and believe the progressive sentiment in it should be organized to make it so. A large majority of the Democrats in the State stand for the right thing, and the party should be represented by them from those who misrepresent it. The majority of the Democrats being sound in principle and sincere in purpose, it behoves those of us who believe in equal rights and no special privileges, and who constitute this majority, to utilize this organization for the accomplishment of needed and unselfish reforms. Political parties are means to an end.

I am a party man and I belong to the Democratic party because I want to cooperate with those who believe as I do, to the end that we may write our principles into law, and then influence those charged with that duty, to enforce the laws courageously and fairly.

Others evidently belong to the Democratic party in order that they may confuse its counsels and prevent its aims.

I am thoroughly tired of being misrepresented by Democratic office-holders, and of fighting sham-battles.

Not only a vast majority of the Democrats, but I believe a large majority of those who affiliate with the Republican party—the privates in the ranks—are in favor of real government by the people and for the people.

Those who serve the "Interests" and who betray the people are in the minority, but they have the advantage of being organized. They are found in both parties, and they have been able to misrepresent the majority without paying the penalty, because that majority is unorganized, and, therefore, accepts feigned issues, and tolerates betrayals.

We write platforms for tariff reduction, and look on helplessly while our representatives, upon one pretext or another, vote against lowering the tariff.

We declare against subsidies, and then re-elect Democrats who stand for them.

We have distinguished, in our platforms, between legitimate business on the one hand, and private monopoly on the other, and have declared that the former should be fostered, and the latter should be destroyed; and when those elected to represent us are put to the test we see the trusts protected upon the pretense that to destroy them will hurt business; and thus the process of accumulating illegitimate millions in the pockets of the few while the masses struggle for the necessities of life, goes on.

We declare in favor of government by the people, and see the legalized primary, which gives every man an equal voice in government defeated upon the representations of a few that it will "ruin the party."

The march of events is in the right direction. Progress is the order of the day. The man who does not see that the way of the political trickster and the petty boss is at an end is blind.

Many good men in Congress, and in the Legislature, as well as out, have been misled and deceived by the misrepresentations of a few designing adherents of the "Interests."

Only a few days ago it was stated on the floor of the State Senate, as a reason for defeating an anti-trust bill, that the farmers who raise tobacco are satisfied with the prices paid them. During the same week a few members of the House of Representatives from the west urged the defeat of the legalized primary because the people did not want it, and to give it to them would be disastrous to the Democratic party. Neither statement was true.

I realize that there are some men in the Democratic party who will disagree with practically all I am saying, but I am sure these men are in the minority, and the time is here when the majority must control in these matters; and I believe that the Democratic party should so adjust itself as to be the means through which this majority can give expression to its desires. It would be unwise to longer ignore, or attempt to harmonize fundamental and irreconcilable differences. There are two men in the Republican party who will agree with LaFollette and Bristow, to every one in the Democratic party who stands with Bailey and Murphy.

Those who have written the platform, and believe in the party's professions must no longer permit it to be misrepresented, either by those who do not profess to believe its doctrines or by those who profess to believe in them before the election but become impotent after they go into office. The slogan of the masses against the self-constituted false leaders who have misrepresented them should be, "Abdicate; the bunch of you!" The fight will not be an easy or a short one, but it is worth while.

Organization by the people in every county in the State, and in every township is the only safe way.

It is not a real Democrat who will oppose the scheme of organization of the people, upon the ground that the Democratic party should have peace. There should be no peace as long as there are serious abuses. No party that fails to serve the people will in the long run win or deserve to win. There will be some organization through which the voice of the unselfish majority will be heard.

If the Democratic party is reorganized by the reactionaries for the next campaign its opportunity for usefulness will have ended.

It is difficult to state in a short space all the reforms that the interests of the people demand, or to classify them in the order of their importance, or to state which is paramount.

The first step to place the people of this State in control of their government is a legalized primary. It should have come at the last session of the Legislature. The defeat of it was in part to a misunderstanding by the majority, and in part to misrepresentation by the minority.

The members of the Legislature from the east were reminded by one or more members from the west that the west had, in time past, come to the rescue of the east at the cost of local self-government, and in return the east was implored to come to the aid of the west and defeat the primary bill.

The absurdity of the appeal did not seem to strike either those who made it, or those to whom it was made. To deny the legalized primary is to deny opportunity for local self-government. To oppose the legalized primary in the name of local self-government is a paradox. Under the present delegate, convention, and small boss plan some of the men who made the plea have more influence than a half dozen townships, while under the primary plan the people would rule, and each man would have an equal voice.

It was noticeable that while some Democrats in the west urged the defeat of the legalized primary upon the ground that it would destroy the Democratic party in the west, the Republicans were not influenced by the argument, for they voted solidly against the primary. It was not the Democratic party that was in jeopardy but special privilege.

We have been so long misrepresented, both at Washington and at Raleigh, that to advocate any machinery to insure that the people's will will become law, is to subject those who advocate them to the charge of being "radical."

The "Interests" have been served, and specially privilege has been the order of the day, so long that those who favor a return to legitimate business methods are denominated "revolutionary" and "dangerous."

ALMOND BARS AND COUPES VENUS.
Magazine. When cooled a little remove from the tins and cut in strips about an inch and half wide.

Coupes Venus.
Put a generous spoonful of vanilla ice cream into saucer champagne glasses; make a shallow depression in the cream and into it set whole peaches cooked in syrup flavored with vanilla; set a maraschino cherry above the peach and around the same pipe whipped cream. Serve at once.

A Russian Sweet.
One and a half pounds of sugar, half a pound of butter, one teaspoonful of cream, two teaspoonfuls of cocoa, one tablespoonful of vanilla extract. Melt the butter and add all the other ingredients except vanilla. Boil for twenty minutes, stirring as little as possible. Then add vanilla. When a drop cooled on a slab cuts clean with a knife pour into buttered tins and mark with a knife. When cool turn out and break into pieces.

To Serve With Ices.
Candied orange peel is an appetizing confection to serve with a frozen dessert. To make it, peel and break into sections, not allowing the juice to exude. Make a syrup in the proportion of one pound of good granulated sugar to one pint of water and let it boil until it will harden in water. Take from the fire and dip the orange strips in the syrup, using a candy dipper or two tined fork. Drain on a fine sieve; place over a platter so that the syrup will not be wasted.

Protecting Mahogany.
In these days of dust the careful housekeeper finds it sifts into her mahogany tops despite covers. This is bad for the wood and makes the covers look dingy.

A lining of some sort should be provided. Sometimes this is in the form of wadded covers of china silk that stand washing. But these give the linen cover a padded look that is not especially desirable.

An interlining of glass is growing in favor. This protects the wood and, if heavy enough not to crack easily, is serviceable and quickly cleaned. The edges should be rounded so as not to cut with careless handling.

One housekeeper advocates the use of asbestos sheets under her dressing table covers. There is no danger to the wood if hot curling tongs or half burnt matches are dropped.

It is cheaper and more convenient to use white blotters as lining. These keep dust from the wood admirably, absorb upset liquids and cost so little that they can frequently be renewed. They have the effect also of making the linen or pique top look whiter.

Quick Dishwashing.
The dishwasher who would get through quickly invests in a soap shaker and a chain for cleaning pots and pans. She also has on hand over the sink a box of borax and a bottle of ammonia for cutting grease.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT.

Tasty Little Dainties That Are Out of the Ordinary.
Today's recipes will not be found in the ordinary cookbook and will be new to the average housekeeper and therefore a very welcome addition to her menu.

Caramel Pie.
Take one quart of sweet milk, five eggs, five tablespoonfuls of sugar, one cupful of damson preserves. Beat the yolks of five eggs and the whites of two until very light, then mix in five tablespoonfuls of sugar, then add cold milk and stir well, then, last, the damson plums. Have your pie crust rolled out thin, put in the caramel and bake. When nearly done put over the top a meringue made of the whites of three eggs and three tablespoonfuls of sugar and let it brown. This makes two pies.

Almond Bars.
Beat half a cup of butter to a cream; gradually beat in one-third of a cup of granulated sugar, then the beaten yolks of three eggs, the grated rind of an orange or lemon, two tablespoonfuls of milk and one cup and a half of sifted pastry flour. Knead slightly, adding a little more flour if necessary. Divide into two or three pieces, according to size of tins; roll one piece into a sheet to fit the pan (a rectangular pan is best), trim if needed and fold under the edges to make a case three-fourths of an inch deep. Flute the edges as for a custard pie. Beat the whites of three eggs dry, gradually beat in half a cup of sugar, then fold in a generous half cup of sugar and a cup and a half of blanched almonds chopped fine. Flavor with a teaspoonful of vanilla. Spread this mixture evenly over the cake mixture in the pans. It should come to the top of the fluted edge. Dredge with granulated sugar and bake in a moderate oven, says the Boston Cooking School

THAT OLD BUCKET.

HOW off I remember a song of my childhood. Whose soft, simple cadence would tenderly swell, Enhancing the delicate charm of the wild-wood—

"The Old Oaken Bucket That Hangs In The Well."

NO more do the waters come sparkling and splashing To cool us when weary we turn to repose, A scientist chap, with his instruments flashing, Has brought a once happy career to a close.

WITH bricks and brush it is covered completely, And all that remains the old story to tell Is the village quartet that still warbles so sweetly About the old bucket that hung in the well.

—Philander Johnson.

BEFORE THE GRINGO CAME.

BEFORE the Gringo came, senor. We were most happy here; The blue waves sparkled and the shore.

Seated green instead of scar.

My people sang; the castanets.

Were clicking through the night.

There were no tears, no vain regrets, And life, senor, was bright.

There rose the tinkle of guitars

On every moonlit eve.

Our hearts then bore no deathless scars:

Nobody seemed to grieve;

Aged Citizen Dead in Durham. Durham, March 28.—Mr. James Norwood died this morning a few minutes before 5 o'clock at his home on the corner of Hunt street and Rigsbee avenue, after an illness of several days. The deceased was 75 years old, and the cause of his death was old age—a wearing out of the faculties.

He is survived by a wife and five children; Chepkins Norwood, of Durham; Davis Norwood, of Greensboro; Grover Norwood, of Illinois; Mrs. Mary Sorrell, of Illinois, and Mrs. Minnie Hart, of Durham.

Mr. Norwood had been a resident of Durham for 25 years. He was highly esteemed by a large circle of friends, who will miss his kindly face.

The funeral services will be conducted Wednesday or Thursday. Dr. J. W. Lynch will officiate.

The pallbearers will be Messrs. J. B. Elliott, C. R. Cross, J. C. Lassiter, J. B. Whitted, R. H. Rigsbee, C. L. Haywood.

"Daughter, has the duke told you the old, old story as yet?"

"Yes; he says he owes about two hundred thousand plunks."—Pittsburg Post.

Women and Society

AS TO CONTROL.

"We are all of us under some kind of control. One man is controlled by Caesar, another by Bonaparte, another by Plato, and so on.—Eminent Psychologist.

We've all of us got a control of some kind.

Like Caesar, or Jonah, or Brutus, that acts like a germ in the depths of the mind, and guides us through pathways that suit us.

Some people are managed by Adam, and then

Some others are guided by Solly, as some have referred to the wisest of men,

But I'm in the clutches of Polly.

When Bonaparte rules in the soul of a man,

That man becomes shortly a hero, or if he does things that are under a ban

Tis likely he's managed by Nero Some Cooks are beneath the fair Borgia's control.

And add to the world's melancholy, But I from the top of my head to my sole Am run by the power of Polly.

In statecraft we find quite a number of men

Who've yielded to Machiavelli, And often we find in some poet's quill pen

Some traces of Byron and Shelley. Sapphira's the guide with full many a wight.

Who gives herself over to folly, But I admit, both by day and by night Am managed completely by Polly.

Some persons delight in the dark Roman hand

That's known as the hand of old Cato. Some lovers whose methods I can't understand

Rejoice in the ruling of Plato. Some women I've met with are deep in the clutch

Of Xanthippe's pepperish trolley, But I am controlled by the gossamer touch

That comes from the finger of Polly,

Let others have Caesar with brain all astir,

Bill Shakespeare, Sam Johnson or Raleigh;

Let others choose Cassius, or, if they prefer,

Munchausen or T. B. Macaulay.

I don't give a rap who runs others as long

As I've for my tyrant, by golly, The Muse who fills up all my hours with song,

My fairylike, airylike Polly.

—Lippincott's.

AMERICAN WOMEN ARE

NOT MAN HUNTERS.

Why does the American girl succeed in "capturing" and marrying so many Englishmen? Is it because she is more attractive than the English girl?

The American girl is no more attractive than the English girl—except on the surface," a well-known writer said recently to the London Daily Mirror.

"When a man gets to know an English girl well she is just as attractive—even more charming—than her American cousin.

"But English etiquette makes it extremely difficult for a young man to get to know a girl without it being thought that he intends to marry her. The mother, perhaps, is overanxious to see her daughter married, and tries to push along things' with undue haste.

"In consequence, the young Englishman hesitates to pay attention to any girl for fear of her matchmaking mother. Matchmaking mothers are practically unknown in the States."

"An Englishman is attracted by the American girl because she differs from any woman he has ever known," said Mrs. York Miller, the Anglo-American authoress.

"He is struck at first by her apparent selfishness—she is so full of her own life and individual interests she appears to be indifferent to his regard—a new sensation for the ordinary Britisher.

"The American girl has not the 'husband-hunting look' in her eye, and marriage to her is not the end-all and be-all of life.

"What is the cause of this curious mentality of American women? It is chiefly brought about by their unbringing. All their life they are allowed to associate with the opposite sex.

"There intellectual training is more complete than that of American men. They are elevated above the male sex. Boys in American families are taught to idealize and obey their sisters.

"Although, as I have said, the American girl is not a husband hunter, she is really rather attracted by the well-bred Englishman.

"The English girl's upbringing entirely differs from that of her American sister.

"In her home sons of the family come first. She is imbued with the idea after she has reached a suitable age—that her chief aim in life is to get married.

"Thus when she meets eligible young men the English girl is naturally self-conscious, and the husband-hunting look comes into her eyes."

Charles Sisson and Miss Louise Sergeant Married.

Yesterday at noon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Sergeant, Arlington street, Miss Louise Sergeant was united in marriage to Charles A. Sisson, of Grand Rapids, Mich. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. E. Hodgin in the presence of relatives and close friends. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Sisson left for Augusta, Ga., where the groom will join the Augusta ball team, with which he will play center during this season.

The marriage comes as a distinct surprise to the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Sisson. They had planned to marry last evening but at the last moment decided to have the ceremony earlier. Mrs. Sisson is one of the most popular young ladies in the city and has scores of friends throughout the county. Mr. Sisson is well known here, having played center for Greensboro for two seasons, being drafted by Augusta of the South Atlantic League in 1909.

In Honor of Miss Long.

Mrs. A. E. B. Alford entertained most delightfully yesterday afternoon from 5 to 6:30 o'clock at her charming home on Summit avenue, the occasion being in honor of Miss Marjorie Long, who is to be married to Charles D. Benbow, Jr., on April 6. About forty young people were present in response to invitations issued several days ago and the affair was one of the social events of the season. Mrs. Alford was assisted in receiving by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Herbert Ballance.

The guests were met at the front door by Miss Frances Long. Mrs. Alford stood in the reception hall and introduced the guests to the members of the bridal party. Miss Long standing first in the line. Mrs. Ballance stood in the library and from here the guests were shown into the dining room where Misses Nelson, Walsh, Main, Hendrix, Mary Callum, Margaret Callum served refreshments. In the rear hall punch was served. In the library as the guests departed souvenirs were given to each guest by Misses Dorothy Hood, Nell Glenn, Jennie Vanstory, Margaret Dupuy. The souvenirs were ribbon bows upon which the letters B-E-N were gilded, the letters and bows representing the word Benbow. Attached by a ribbon to each bow was a pale blue satin heart. The bride's favor was a white satin heart with her monogram in gold.

The reception hall was in gold, the motif being effected with double narcissus, daffodils and asparagus ferns. In the library the color scheme was white and pale blue. In the dining room the motif was pink and green. Honey-suckle vines and ferns were used in making a canopy over the table and to this was attached festoons of pink hyacinths and pink sweet peas. The scheme was carried out in the refreshments.

Mrs. Alford wore her wedding dress of ivory satin trimmed in garlands of point venice lace. Her flowers were orange blossoms and la France roses. Mrs. Ballance, who assisted in receiving, wore pale blue chiffon over blue silk with gold trimmings, her ornaments being pearls. Miss Long wore mauve chiffon over mauve satin, the bodice being embroidered in pastel shades.

Mrs. Alford rendered several selections on the piano during the afternoon, playing Lohengrin's Wedding March in variations of her own composition, Mendelssohn's Spring Song and Chamande's Scarf Dance to the great delight of her guests.

Mrs. O. V. Woosley remains quite ill at the home of Dr. E. R. Michaux, North Elm street.

Miss Rosa Hamilton of Durham is visiting friends in Greensboro.

Mrs. William Ellis Jones and son, William Ellis, Jr., of Richmond, Va., are spending a few days in the city the guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Elmore, 412 North Elm, on their return from Goldsboro where they have been visiting at the home of Rev. J. H. Dickinson, rector of St. Stephen's church of that city.

Miss Julia Stivers, of Chattanooga, Tenn., is in the city on a visit to friends.

Miss Julian Bagley, of Blackstone, Va., is in the city, the guest of Miss Marjorie Long, Church street. Miss Bagley will be one of the bridesmaids at the Benbow-Long wedding on April 6.

Mrs. S. A. Holleman, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. C. C. Robbins, of High Point, left yesterday afternoon for Graham to visit relatives.

IT SAVES YOU MONEY

Dr. Howard's Dyspepsia Specific; Regular Price 50c. Howard Gardner's Price 25c.

The special half price sale of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia by Howard Gardner means the saving of a few dollars on every family's yearly bill for medicines.

Mr. Gardner has so much faith in the superior merit of this medicine that he says: "If Dr. Howard's specific does not cure you, come back to his store and he will return your money."

This remedy is not an ordinary medicine. It is the favorite formula of a well known physician, and has the endorsement of hundreds of physicians of eminence in their profession, who prescribe it in all cases of constipation, dyspepsia or liver trouble, knowing from experience that it will make a complete and lasting cure.

Warning to Railroad Men
Look out for severe and even dangerous kidney and bladder trouble resulting from years of railroading. Geo. E. Bell, 639 Third St., Fort Wayne, Ind., was many years a conductor on the Nickel Plate. He says: "Twenty years of railroading left my kidneys in terrible condition. There was a continual pain across my back and hips and my kidneys gave me much distress, and the action of my bladder was frequent and most painful. I got a supply of Foley Kidney Pills and the first bottle made a wonderful improvement and four bottles cured me completely. Since being cured I have recommended Foley Kidney Pills to many of my railroad friends." Howard Gardner.

MAGAZINE MAIL TO TRAVEL AS FREIGHT

Bulky Periodicals to be Shipped in Carload Lots by Speedy Trains.

STEP TOWARD ECONOMY

Postal Service Head Finds Solution of Vexing Second-Class Matter Problem.

Washington, D. C., March 28.—Magazines and other bulky periodicals, after July 1, will be transported by the Post Office Department in carloads as fast freight. Postmaster General Hitchcock is developing as rapidly as possible plans which he decided upon last December to utilize fast freight trains in the transportation of magazines when practicable, and in instances where a saving to the government in transportation charges may be effected.

"The plans I have decided upon," said the Postmaster General this evening, "are not proposed as a solution of the pending controversy over the suggested increase of the second-class mail rates on the advertising sections of magazines, but they probably will tend to bring about a solution of that question the more easily."

The quadrennial weighing of the mails in the third contract section of the country, comprising the States of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and Missouri, is now in progress. By direction of the Postmaster General, given in accordance with his plans for transporting periodical by fast freight, the weights of monthly and semi-monthly periodical mail matter originating in large publishing centres are being taken and kept separate from the weights of other mails. The great publishing centres are Boston, Springfield, Mass.; New York, Philadelphia and Chicago.

Beginning July 1 periodicals that can be transported in carload lots by fast freight through the section weighed, without disadvantage in delivery, will be carried in this manner and paid for at freight rates. The weights of the periodicals taken during the present quadrennial weighing will be excluded from the basis of adjustment of transportation pay for the four-year term on the railways affected.

Distributing terminals have been established in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha, St. Paul and Cincinnati. Through matter that can be handled in carload lots will be sent through the weighing section by freight, and such additional distribution as is necessary before the matter is delivered to other railway postoffice lines will be done at the terminals.

Arrangements will be made with the publishers for a finer separation in the publishing offices, and for an earlier mailing of their matter so that the slower method of transportation may not affect the regularity or promptness of its delivery.

AN OLD LANDMARK PASSES.
The Removal of the Fuller Home recalls a Distinguished and Popular Family Formerly Residing in Raleigh.

Raleigh, March 28.—Nearly half a century ago, Col. Thos. C. Fuller defended Geo. W. Swepson for his life and as a few received a deed for the house and lot, corner Hillsboro and McDowell streets, in this city. Dr. J. R. Rogers purchased this property some years ago and is now moving the dwelling back on Edenton street to make room for an elegant residence of white pressed brick. From this old Fuller home has gone forth a most remarkable family of men and women.

W. W. Fuller, the oldest son, resides in New York City and is general counsel of the American Tobacco Company. He is far and away the most successful and the wealthiest lawyer the State ever reared. F. L. Fuller resides in Durham and is the confidential adviser of Messrs Duke and Watts and is perhaps the best furnished corporation lawyer in the State. Jones Fuller, the youngest son, resides in Boston and is the general counsel of the Rexall Remedy Company. He resigned as solicitor of the Ninth Judicial District to accept this position.

Three young women, now happily married, were also reared in the old home. As the old landmark passes away, the mind returns to the genial face of Judge Fuller, leader of the North Carolina bar for so many years; the great jury lawyer, the able judge; and to his sweet spirited and devoted wife. Very rapidly these days in Raleigh are improvements removing relics of the past.

We Sell for Less Because We Sell for Cash

We do not want you to buy from us if you feel that you can afford to pay from 50 cents to $1.50 a pair more for your shoes than we ask for the same kind of a shoe. It is nice to be liberal, and the stores who sell on credit need your money to pay for the shoes bought by the man who never pays for them. If you judge the value of a shoe by the price, you should go to some other store where they will allow you to pay $5.00 for a $3.50 shoe just to make you feel rich.

We Want the Man's Money Who Wants His Money's Worth.

Philanthropists? No. We have method in our madness, we know that the man who demands full value for his money will pay cash, and he will have cash to spend when the other fellow who buys on credit will be broke and in debt. We are in business to make money, but not at your expense. When we sell four pairs of shoes at $4.00 a pair we get $16.00 in cash, but if we sold these shoes at $5.00 a pair on credit, and one of the four men did not pay us, we would only get $5.00 for our four pairs of shoes.

WE SELL THE $5.00 KIND FOR $4.00 CASH, THE $4.00 KIND FOR $3.50 CASH, AND THE $3.50 KIND FOR $3.00 CASH. DON'T YOU THINK IT WOULD PAY YOU TO BUY FOR CASH? THINK IT OVER. "A DOLLAR SAVED IS A DOLLAR MADE."

MR. DUNCAN A VISITOR.

National Committeeman E. Carl Duncan Pays a Flying Visit to Charlotte—Much Speculation as to His Mission.

Charlotte, March 28.—National Committeeman E. Carl Duncan of Raleigh spent a few hours in this city yesterday.

Mr. Duncan came down from Greensboro, arriving here about 11 o'clock and returned at 3 o'clock.

Shortly after his arrival in this city he had a conference with Mr. Jake F. Newell and Col. W. S. Pearson in Mr. Newell's office, then took lunch with them at the Stonewall and at 3 o'clock bid himself back to Greensboro.

Just what was discussed at this conference and later over the dinner table has not yet transpired. That it will come out later "in the washing" is very likely. Some suggested one thing and some another, the majority agreeing that the assistant-district attorneyship appointment was the "piece de resistance" considered.

It was stated that this was the first visit that Mr. Duncan, who by virtue of his office as national Committeeman is the foremost Republican leader in the State, had ever made to Charlotte with the exception of his attendance upon the Republican State convention two years ago.

That something interesting is in the air is evident. Mr. Duncan would not have taken the trouble to run down to Charlotte for his health, nor would he have made this flying trip if the matter under discussion was not something of more than passing interest politically.

Ten Cents A Day Enough.

Boston, Mass., March 28.—Prof. L. J. Henderson, of Harvard, an authority on dietetics, says the average man of 165 pounds should live on 4 1/2 pounds of food a day, 70 per cent. of which should be plain water and that ten cents a day should provide sufficient food.

LA FAYETTE PLAYER STRUCK WITH BAT

Injured in Practice Game Here---La Fayette Ready for Battle With Guilford.

This afternoon at Guilford College the Quakers will play the LaFayette team from Pennsylvania. The team arrived from Raleigh yesterday morning and is stopping at the Guilford hotel. There are thirteen men, manager and coach and the players are husky looking fellows. The boys went out to the park in the afternoon and engaged in practice for an hour or more.

While engaged in practice one of the players, R. A. Altschuler, was struck on the head by a bat, which slipped from the hands of a batter, and badly hurt. He was carried to his room and attended by a physician. He will hardly be able to get in the game for several days.

Tomorrow afternoon at Cone park the two teams will play the second game of the series and a large crowd will no doubt be out to greet the players.

Baseball At Pleasant Garden.

Pleasant Garden, March 28.—There will be a game of ball at Pleasant Garden Thursday evening, March 30th, between the high school teams of Pleasant Garden and High Point. An interesting game is expected. There will also be an entertainment given in the school building that night for the benefit of the athletic association, consisting of music, dialogues, plays, etc. Refreshments will be served. Tickets for the game will be 25c. These will be good for the entertainment that night. Everybody invited to come out and have a good time.

VIRGINIA SHOWING UP WELL

Orange and Blue Players Are Speedy On the Bases.

University of Virginia, March 28.—For the past week the baseball squad has been working hard on baserunning and sliding and a number of the candidates are showing up well.

Douglas, shortstop, has topped the field in both running the whole circuit and covering the distance to first base.

Moralist—Ah, kind friend, it is deeds, not words, that count!

tomorrow?"

"Faith, an' o' can—tomorrow or any day. I was goin' out to get meself a new job."—Harper's Bazaar.

Captain Hume, a veteran outfielder of the team, made next best time, being one-half of a second slower than Douglas.

Coach Rigler has devoted the team to steady base-runners and they have gotten the famous fade-a-way slide down to fine style.

When Virginia goes to Norfolk on April 15th to play Yale, they will have one of the fastest base running teams in the East. This fact has been brought out in minor games, although Virginia has not been pushed for runs this season. Their daring base running has been the feature of every contest in which they have participated.

Next week the heavy schedule starts with a game with Amherst and the fans are anxiously awaiting the result of the first real test. Last year Amherst had one of the best college teams in the country, three of their team going direct to the big leagues this year.

Sporting Notes.
Harvard's spring football call brought out 75 candidates.

Tom Flanagan will open a big sporting club in Toronto.

Leland Stanford University has rowing classes for women.

Spring football practice is on in colleges throughout the country.

Polo championships will occur at Point Judith Country Club, Rhode Island, starting July 24.

George Golding, the amateur walking champion, may be sent to the Olympic games by Canada.

The annual yacht race between Milwaukee and Chicago for the S. C. Herbst trophy will be sailed July 1.

Charles Conkle, the Canadian light-weight wrestler, will wind up his career on the mat with a few exhibition bouts in the near future.

Japanese are taking up American and English athletic games and may send some entries to the Olympic games at Stockholm next year.

About 200,000 spectators saw the four English cup soccer games of two weeks ago. The Swindon-at-Chelsea game drew best, 76,000 being the attendance.

Dan O'Leary will stage a six-day go-as-you-please at Indianapolis, starting Monday. The track will measure 19 laps to the mile and will be covered with clay and sandust.

The Oxford crew for Saturday's boat race with Cambridge is an exceptionally heavy one. R. C. Bourne, the stroke, who weighs 152 1-2, is the only man in the boat under 170 pounds. A. S. Garson, who rows No. 6, pulls down the scale at 192 1-2 pounds. They are also very fast, and their first practice on the Thames course greatly impressed the critics.

Another Boost for Simple Life.

Ithaca, N. Y., March 28.—Statistics show that Cornell's country students average a half inch taller, three and a half pounds heavier and have a slightly greater lung expansion than the city bred students.

Guilford's New Chairman.

At the meeting of the Guilford County Democratic Executive Committee Saturday morning E. G. Sherrill tendered his resignation as chairman. This was accepted and A. Wayland Cooke was elected to succeed Mr. Sherrill. The appointment of Mr. Cooke will give universal satisfaction throughout the country. In High Point he has a large number of friends, who are especially well pleased with the appointment. He was for years chairman of the County Board of Elections, and has been a member of the State Executive Committee. North State Capitol

Brown, accompanied by Stenographer Griffin, has gone to Chadbourn to look over the situation and take testimony that will be received by the other commissioners before the ruling is made.

Two charters were issued today. The Liberty Theatre Co., Winston-Salem, capital $25,000 for a general theatre business, by A. F. Moses and others, and the Boyles Mercantile Co., of Kings, Stokes county, capital $4,500 paid in, by C. O. Boyles and others.

Governor Kitchin has issued a requisition on the governor of Virginia for Grover Ledbetter and E. C. Crouch, now under arrest in Danville, Va., and wanted in Cleveland county for trespass and assault. There is also a reward offered by the governor for the arrest of the unknown person who seriously shot Killian Lloyd in Lincoln county January 17. The reward is $200.

Four days of the whirlwind campaign for the $65,000 fund for the Raleigh Y. M. C. A. building has accumulated a little less than half the amount necessary—$30,385. There are five days remaining for the campaigning and the workers, while realizing that many of their largest and best subscriptions are already in, are confident of success and are right down to their most strenuous effort.

A definite arrangement has been made between the state department of agriculture and the Seaboard Air Line Railroad Company for the establishment of small test farms along the lines of the company in this state and for the department to furnish the expert direction of the effort on these demonstration farms, the railroad company to furnish all the labor, bear all the expense of the farms. The department experts are to pass on the types of soil selected for the demonstration purposes, recommend the fertilization and varieties of crops and methods of cultivation. The department has for some time had such an arrangement with the Norfolk & Southern for demonstration work in the sections of East Carolina through which this company operates. The Southern is also doing work of this kind in the Asheville section of Western Carolina, but has no relation with the state department of agriculture in connection with it.
